Mr. Ashley

Kevin was reading a book in his house. Kevin was very handsome. He always wore his shark T-shirts when he went to school.

One day, Kevin's mom came to his room and stopped him from reading. Kevin looked up and wondered what his mom wanted.

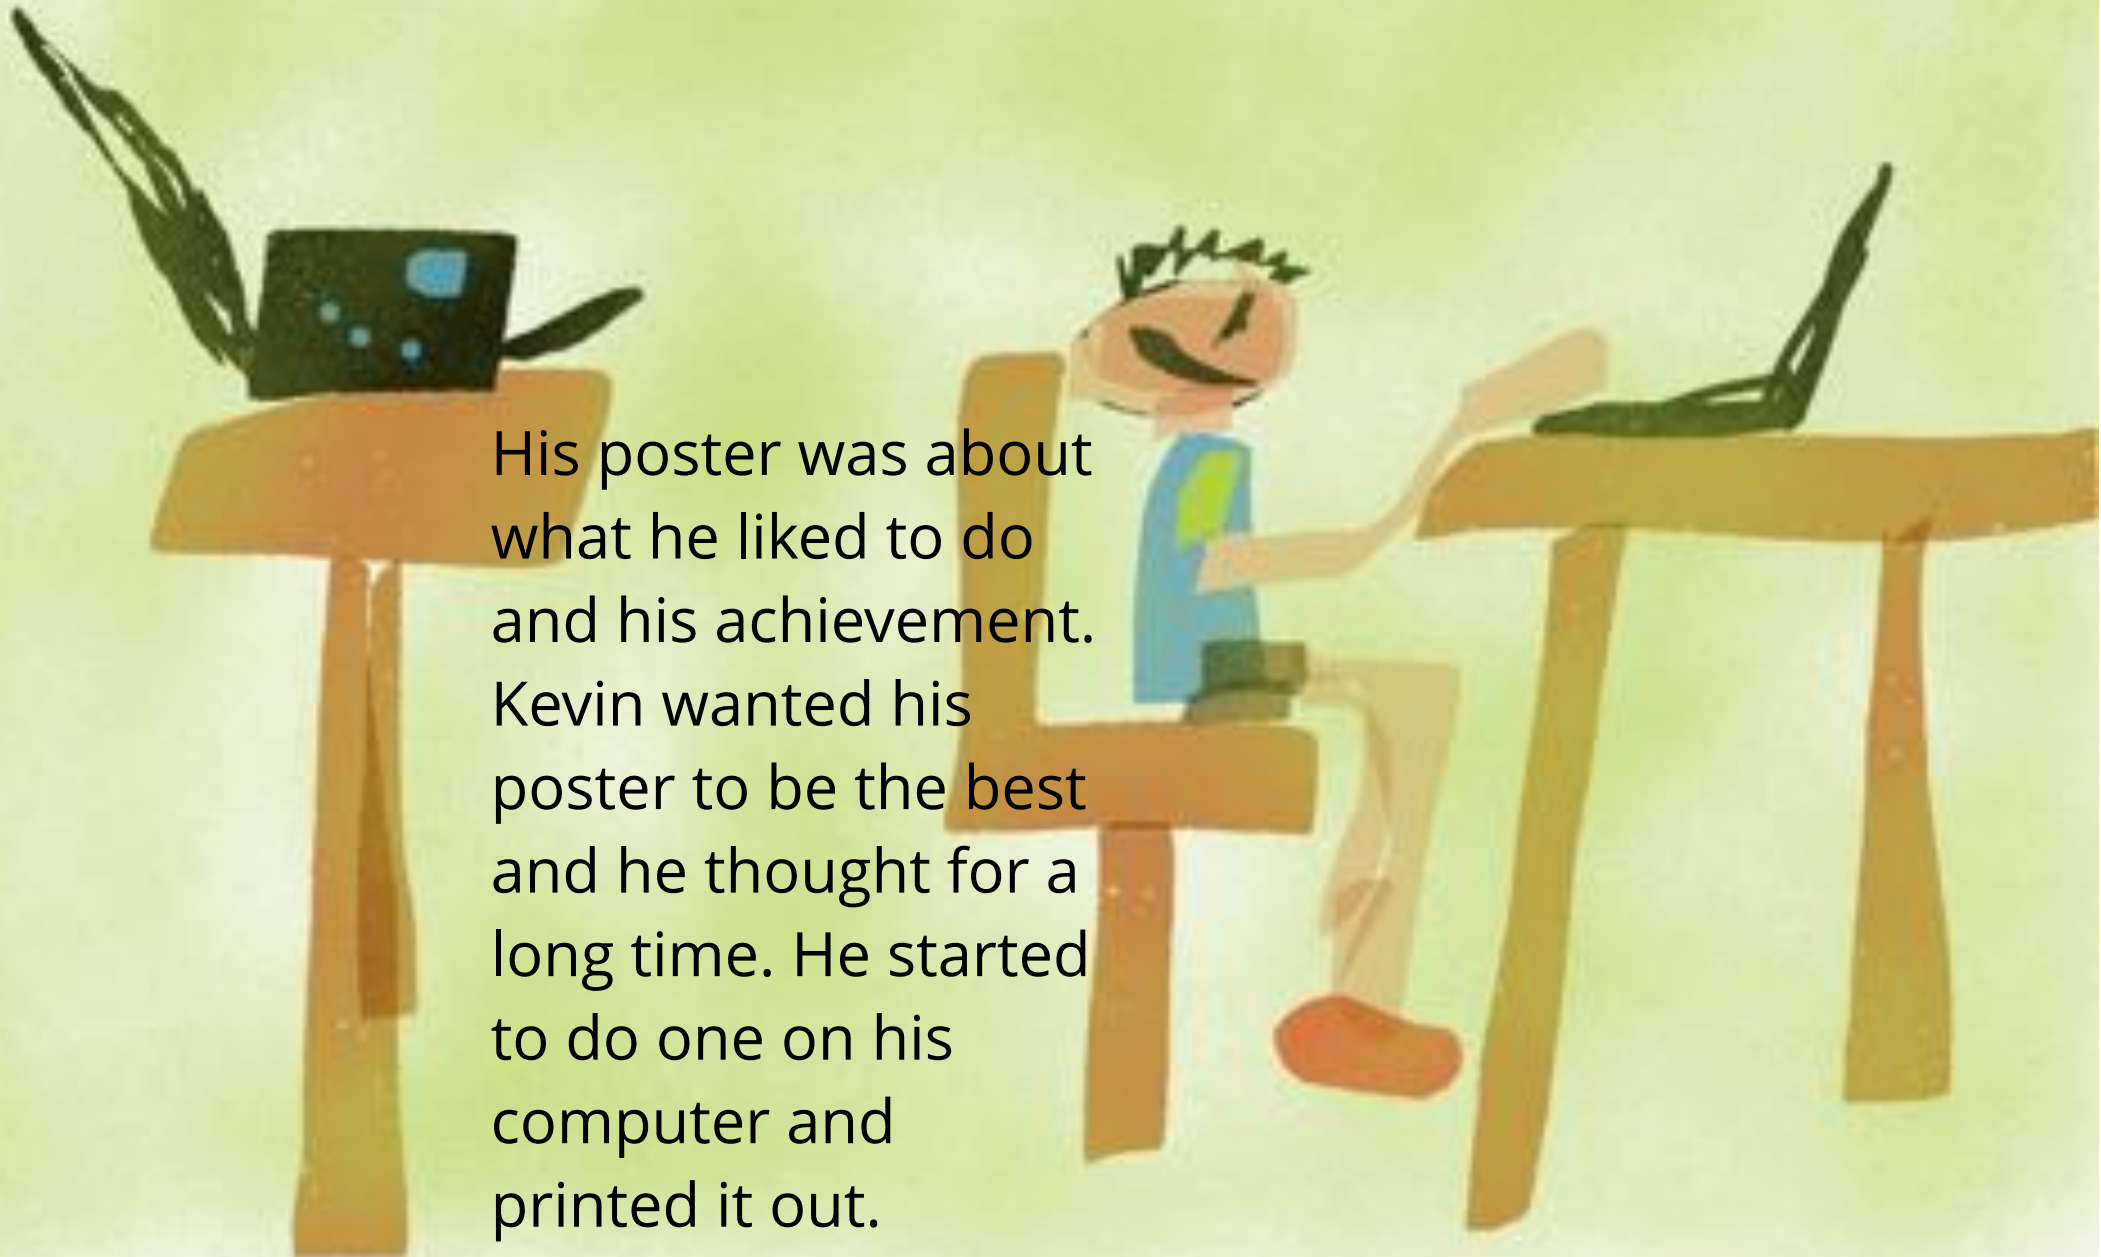

His mom said,
"This is student councilor registration form."
"I think you may have a try."

Kevin let out a big sigh but he knew his mom was right. Kevin wanted to try, so he started working on it. But Kevin said to his mom, "if I'm not selected as a student councilor, I will not try when I'm in grade 4." Kevin was writing his poster with excitement.

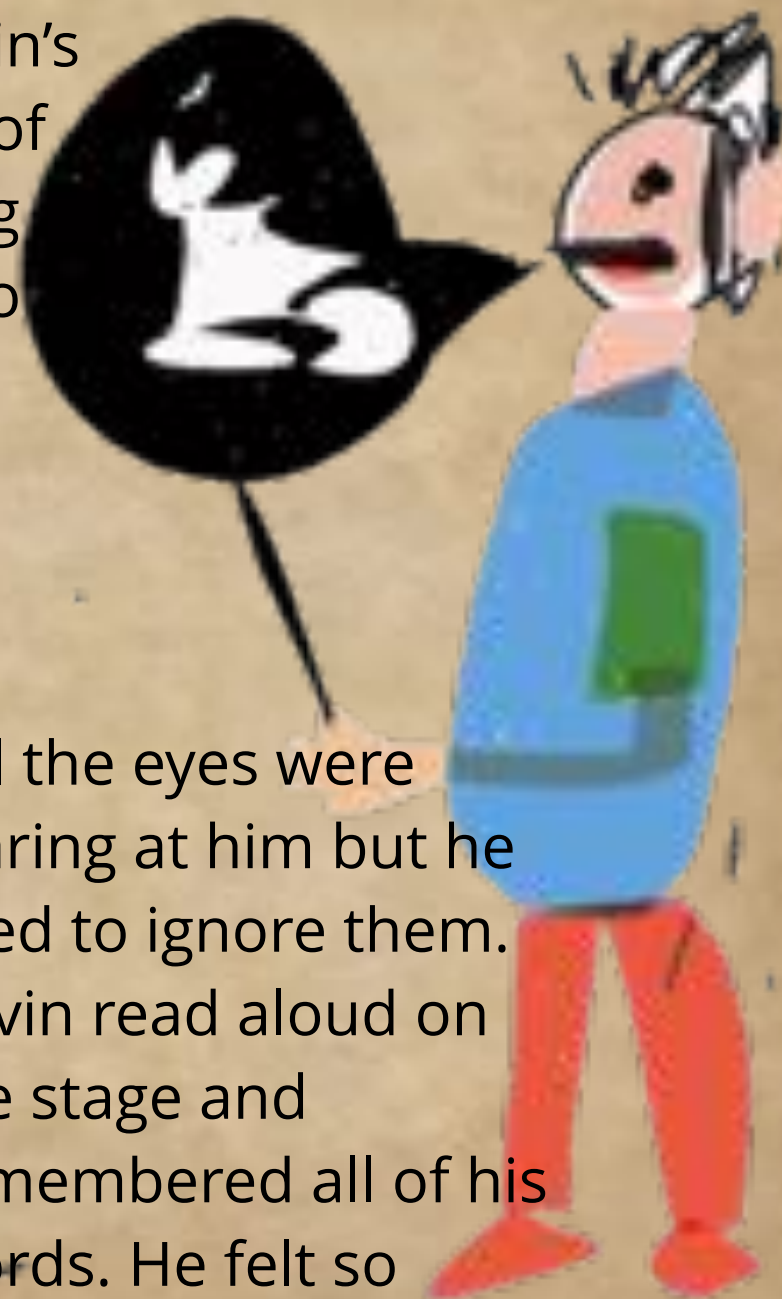

His poster was about what he liked to do and his achievement. Kevin wanted his poster to be the best and he thought for a long time. He started to do one on his computer and printed it out.

Kevin was very excited in school because he would read his speech to the class. Kevin was the last one to read the speech. Finally it was Kevin's turn. Kevin's heart was beating very fast and his hand was full of sweat. Then his names was called. This was his big moment, he took a big breath and tried his best to walk confidently towards the stage.

All the eyes were staring at him but he tried to ignore them. Kevin read aloud on the stage and remembered all of his words. He felt so proud of himself.

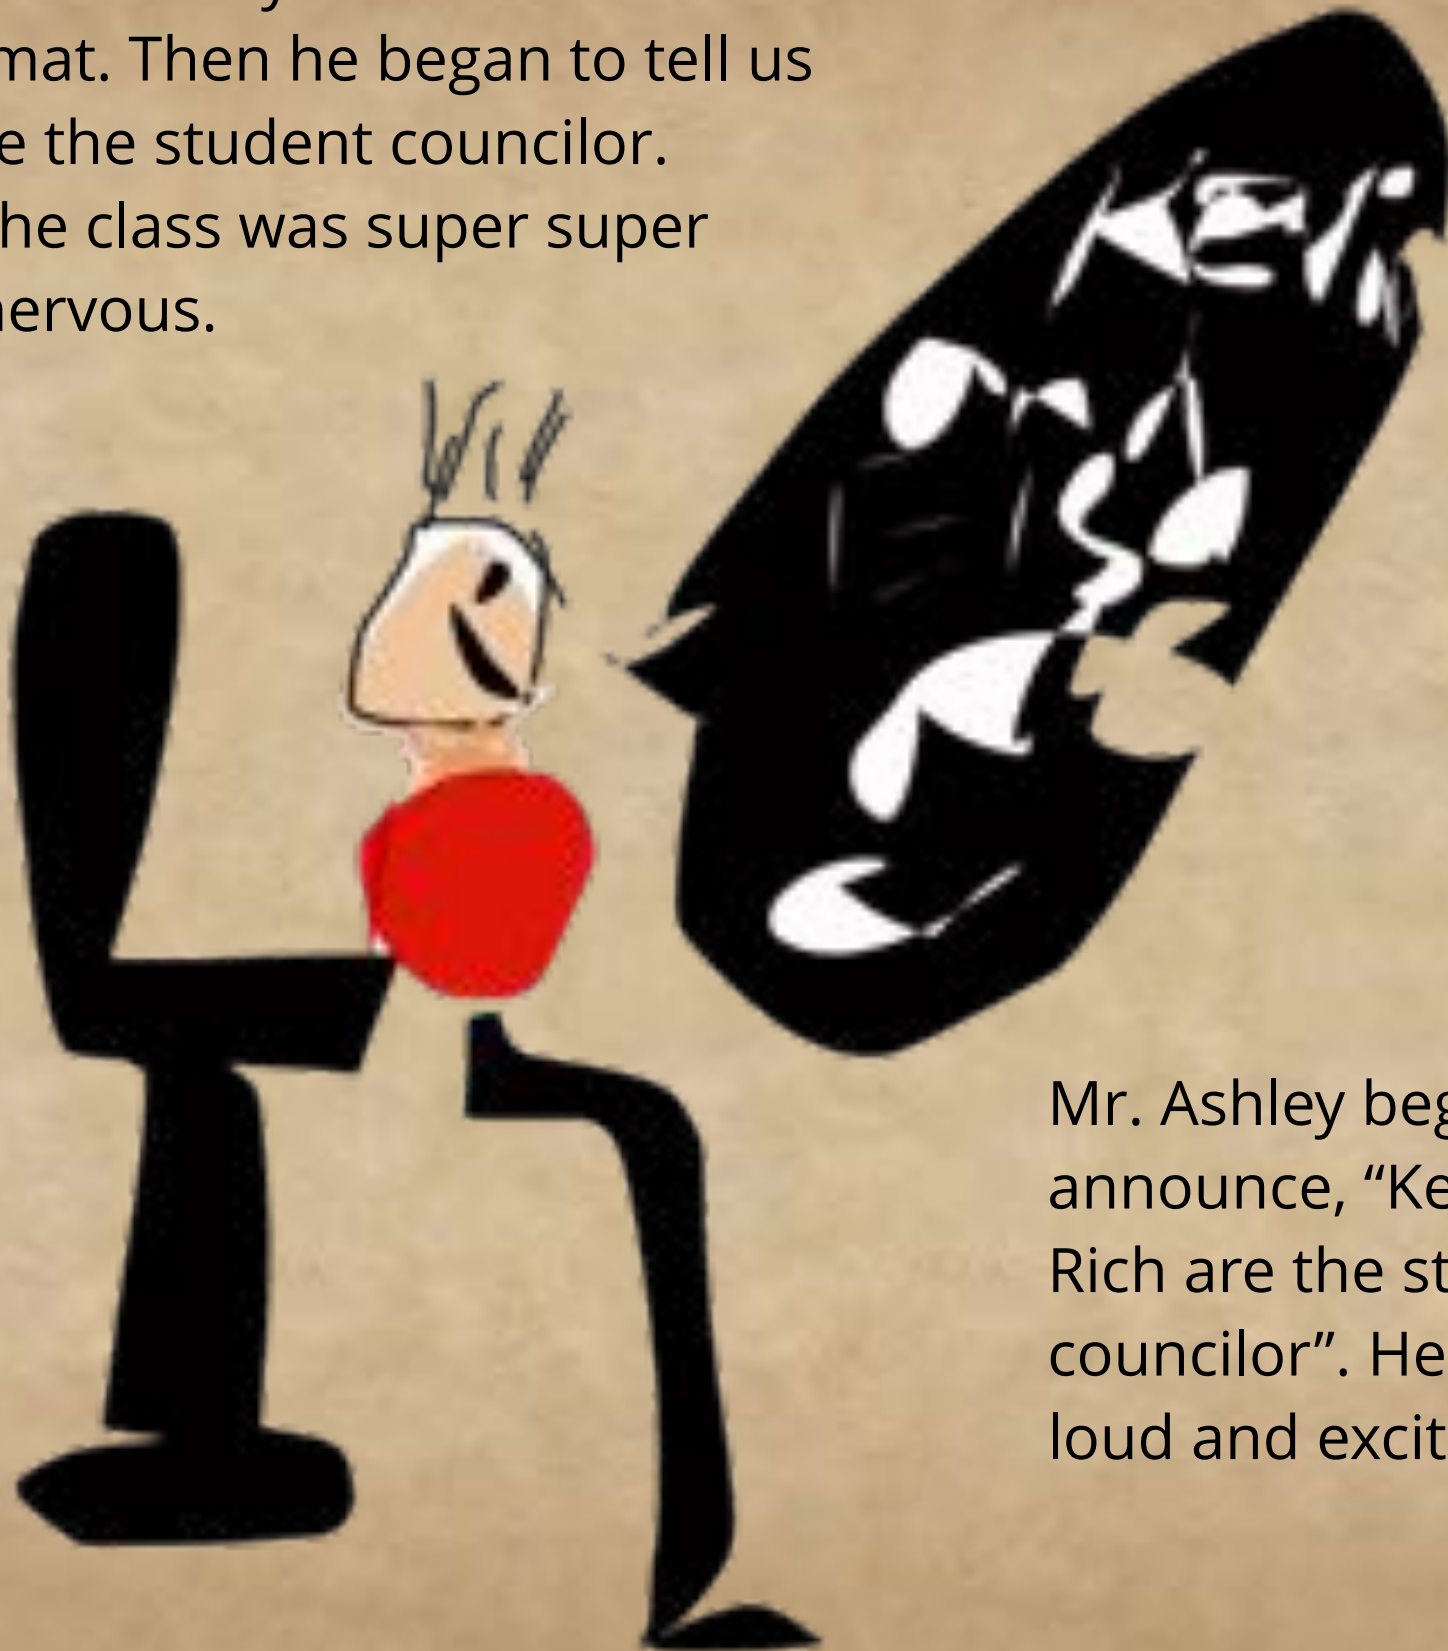

When Kevin finished, everyone gave him a big big clap! All Kevin's friends told Kevin that his speech was very good and full of his own voice.

He changed his sound and speed when it was a different sentence or different word. Kevin felt super confident now that he would be chosen.

After recess, Mr. Ashley let all the students to sit on the mat. Then he began to tell us who would be the student councilor. Everyone in the class was super super excited and nervous.

Mr. Ashley began to announce, "Kevin and Rich are the student councilor". He said in a loud and exciting voice.

Kevin's heart almost jumped out from his body. Others that were not chosen were very sad. But Kevin said good job and gave a big clap to those friends that were not chosen.

After Mr. Ashley and Kevin's comfort, all the students that were not chosen felt better.

At the end of the day, Kevin packed his backpack quickly and ran back his home, full of excitement when he was going upstairs.

Kevin began to think of flying upstairs. When he came home, he gave his mom a big hug and told her all his cheerful feeling.

He told his mom what happened all the day loudly and he used his best telling skills to tell the story to his mom.

When Kevin finished, his mom gave him a big hug too and said congratulations to him. Kevin was super happy that he listened to his mom and agreed to have the try.
